Bless us, O Men ~ As we have blessed you with our gentility for millennia.

*Bless us with your offered upraising hands, your strength, your provision,
your focus, your dedication,*

*your spire of Honour,
your Peace.*

*Enter, Become the realm of the God you so love ~ find Him in yourselves,
become Him, Become His Blessing:*

~ so that Women now and at last can say truly :

*We are Blessed with God,
we are Blessed with Men.*

And as you can say now, as you open your eyes to us, see at last our lucent face at the high window of our keep :

*We are Blessed with Women,
we are Blessed with Goddess.*

That we may whisper to you :

Bless us, O beautiful Men, with What You Are :

*with your stark linear Grace,
your high Honour :*

with your
